

Dragonspeak

by Jim Sayles

“And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon...” Revelation 13:11 KJV

A presentation of James Lloyd’s revelatory understanding of how Satan deceives us corporately and individually for the purpose of separating us from the will of God and from one another, which, in the beginning, was the cause of one man’s original covenant failure (Adam), and, in the final days, will be the cause of a multitude of “foolish” virgins rejecting their faith in Jesus Christ and not only believing the lies of the enemy, but persecuting the “wise” virgins of the true church...

James Lloyd is the founder and director of Christian Media Network and its affiliated ministries, and he is a provocative and prolific author operating in the anointing of Elijah (though he has not made this claim for himself) to turn the hearts of the awakened fathers of the faith back to the deceived and divided children of the faith for the purpose of preparing a people, the remnant elect of spiritual Israel, the “wise” virgins of the end times Philadelphian church, for the return of the Lord.

A link to his website is provided at the end of this commentary.

The body of this article is from his “GeoSpeak” newsletter. My comments are in blue italics.

Although most moderns have heard of the concept referred to as the Dialectic, the overwhelming majority carelessly dismiss it as just an ancient word which they simplistically associate with dialogue. Others with a more classical education, tend to view it as a particular brand of philosophy; however, the Dialectic – that which we refer to as Dragonspeak – is actually the deadliest of threats to the entire world.

Indeed, this writer can say with all sincerity that the process of the Dialectic (sometimes called The Dialogue To Consensus), has already defeated the so called Christian “church,” and the only group to escape its insidious power is the genuine Remnant of Israel. Further, I would emphatically urge all to take a very serious look at this subject before simply dismissing it as just another fringe theory:

“He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him” (Proverbs 18:13).

As evidence of the power of the spirit behind Dragonspeak, I would submit the following. Just three sentences back, I said the Dialectic has already conquered the Christian church. Now honestly ask yourself the following question: As you read those words, did you, or did you not take umbrage at such an audacious statement and, perhaps even mentally recalled Jesus Christ’s words where he said the following:

“...upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it” (Matthew 16:18).” (The “gates of hell” is not Satan’s residence. Hell or “hades” is the region of the dead, and this oft mis-interpreted passage is simply saying that “death” shall not prevail against the church.)

If you did, you have just been processed. A response mechanism was triggered, with an intellectual retort, in which you sought to justify your position – and it can be proven that this precise pattern has been repeatedly articulated by Satanically indwelt individuals, as the ultimate system with which to subtly destroy faith in Jesus Christ.

There are three stages (or phases) of this “Dialogue To Consensus.” The first is the Fact, or the thesis. That is found in the rather barbed statement stipulating that the Dragonspeak Dialogue has already conquered the Christian church. It is not a theory, nor was it couched in phrasing such as “in my opinion, I believe the Dialectic has already conquered the Christian church.” It was stated as a fact, as I know it to be true.” (Demonstrated to be true by the division and somnolence of the church and our acceptance of division and somnolence as being “normal” for the church with ecumenicalism being the NT equivalent of the tower of Babel)

Of course, most “believers” have been conditioned to believe otherwise and, when an uncomfortable Fact is asserted, the response is one of Feelings. This is the emotional reaction to facts which disrupt, disturb, or even threaten to destroy relationships, and relationships are closely associated with feelings. We love our churches, we love our pastors and priests, and we have endearing relationships with people and beliefs which are not built on the Fact of Jesus Christ. Indeed, many of these relationships, both emotional and intellectual, are with people, places, and things which we believe to be thoroughly Christian – yet the Facts say otherwise. (The list is too long for this commentary, but among them are Christian cults, quasi-“Christian” organizations like the Masonic Lodge, and certain theologies within the encyclopedia of conflicting theological opinions present in the professing church.)

Finally, as those Feelings collide with the Facts, the third and final stage of Philosophy, a rational and reasoning form of thinking and decision making, emerges. Thus, Facts collide with Feelings, and when we process the conflict, the result is to justify our Philosophical worldview. This is the heart of the Dialectic process.

Some will immediately recognize the formula under the more familiar version named after Georg Immanuel Hegel, usually dubbed the Hegelian Dialectic, which has been reduced to Thesis versus Antithesis equals Synthesis. Here we have rephrased it to Facts versus Feelings equals Philosophy.

Far from some high brow theoretical formula which only exists in some intellectual ivory tower, this “Dialogue To Consensus” actually began in the Garden of Eden, and when the 20th century finally arrived, a key group of intellectuals codified its structure, and ultimately introduced it to America’s post World War II educational system.

As the underlying Philosophy of the Dialectical paradigm burrowed its way into the baby-boom generation, and those young people became the parents and grandparents of successive generations, the Dragonspeak Dialogue penetrated deeper and deeper into American, and world culture. (This is the “how” part of our recognition that Satan, the “god” of the world systems of government, science, education, business and banking, and religion, including the Christian religion, has deceived us.)

Unfortunately, because the majority of people have actually had their thought processes changed through this nefarious process, the Dialectic system not only perpetuates itself, it serves as a defense mechanism to insulate its intellectual prisoners from a Scripturally sound, Didactic (meaning fixed) analysis which would return us to the ways of the LORD (i.e. our acceptance and obedient faith response to the absolute, immutable, revelatory truth of God). It is now far too late to uproot it from our social structure.

Even though this “Dragonspeak Dialogue” is most easily recognized in political applications, it is, in fact, *a Spiritual virus. Dialectic expert Dean Gotcher characterizes it as intellectual witchcraft, and the terrible truth is, this formula is the key to the method which was used to leaven what most Christians believe to be the body of Christ – a body which was prophesied to be transformed into what the Scriptures identify as Babylon. (Speaking of the ultimate fate of the “foolish” virgins, but not of the “wise” virgins who will ultimately conform to the Philadelphian church model prior to the opening of the 7th seal in prophetic fulfillment of the promise to that church as revealed by the Lord and reported by John in Revelation 3:7-13)

In this regard, I return to the earlier example, wherein the Scriptures themselves can be applied to seek to diminish the impact of a Fact – an elusive phenomena which is also known as the truth. I said the church has been defeated by the Dialectic process – a statement which offends sensibilities on a wholesale basis. The result is to cite a Scripture, out of context, where the LORD says the gates of Hell will not prevail against His church.

This is precisely what Satan did, when he quoted Scripture, out of context, when the truth was standing in front of him. As the devil sought to draw Jesus into a dialogue, the LORD stood firm with Facts. He said

“It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God” (Matthew 4:4).

This is a Fact, for it is written. Next, Satan’s attempt at an emotional response arrives, as he seeks to introduce doubt, which is Feelings oriented. He does this through posing a question, which was crafted with language that not only seeks to ignite a dialogue with Christ, it subtly seeks to implant doubt in the mind of Jesus (Just as he planted doubt in Eve’s mind by saying, “Did God really say...?”) – clearly an emotional mechanism being used to deflect the Fact that Jesus is the Son of God. Further, the way in which the phrases his words subtly implies he is considering Christ’s claim of deity by using the word “if” – as though he might just rethink his position if Jesus answers him adequately:

“If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down....” (Matthew 4:6).

Finally, the Philosophy is the result, as Satan then cites Scripture out of context, as a defense – which is the synthesis of the collision between the two:

“...it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone” (Matthew 4:6).

Thus, we see that Scripture, applied in order to sustain the relationship which is threatened by the truth, is heresy, and the “church” is committing this practice NOW, on a daily basis.”

Many Christians at this point will not acknowledge the possibility that their specific doctrines and practices or their chosen “experts” and “authorities,” including denominational authorities and ministry leaders with whom they have deep emotional bonds, are subject to this subtle, persistent deception by Satan, much less the possibility that their doctrines and practices include heresies.

Yet, the proof of our deception is IN our division into numerous denominations and theological differences just as was aptly identified by Paul in Ephesians 4:1-16.

But the “wise” will read on.

In part one of the present exposition, I sought to commit to print a rudimentary analysis which would outline how the insidious nature of the Dialectic process (that which the Scriptures call Dragonspeak) has already succeeded in penetrating virtually every institutional construct imaginable – including the collective churches of America. Indeed, as I sent out that particular essay to a large number of presumed believers in Christ, every single negative reply extensively utilized the Dialectic process in their response.

In other words, the truth simply bounced off their hardened hearts and, professing themselves to be wise Christians, they demonstrated they are actually fools:

“When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side” (Matthew 13:19).

Many will react antagonistically (read emotionally) to the use of this Scripture, as applied to those who refused the Holy Spirit’s reproof embedded in the original essay. Were it not for the fact the LORD opened this writer’s eyes to the horrifying reality of how the Spirit of Antichrist is flourishing within the Dialectic system – the very phenomena I’ve been called to repudiate -- I would have exhibited the same response.

Large numbers of America’s populace are aware the nation has gone mad in its pursuit of “political correctness,” and the touchy feely group-think process which now permeates our social structure has become so pervasive that it’s even become the subject of satire in secular entertainment venues. However, very few realize that America was specifically targeted, via our educational infrastructure, shortly before the onset of the baby boom; and the architects of this manipulative mind meld openly stated their goal was to transform the entire nation into a new way of thinking.

For example, everyone knows the children are taught by the teachers, yet how many know the educators themselves represented the first goal set by the social engineers, in an open conspiracy to reach the children – kids who would eventually grow into positions of authority with subtly conditioned thought processes? In fact, any teacher in the nation can tell you about a crucial book entitled Taxonomy of Educational Objectives, for it became the virtual Bible of education.

Indeed, the Taxonomy is so foundational that there is not an accredited teacher who has never seen it, and like the title says, this book provides the actual definition of education – and just what is to be the “objective” of any aspect of instruction. Since this work is foundational, and since America was built upon the foundation of the patriarchal model of God, family, and the Biblical concept of absolute truth, the worldview of Benjamin Bloom’s Taxonomy should be of interest. He writes the following:

“We recognize the point of view that truth and knowledge are only relative and that there are no hard and fast truths which exist for all time and places” (Taxonomy, published in 1956, with the research commencing in the prophetically significant year of 1948).

This is the wicked worldview which lurks beneath the entire educational system in America.

Such relativism should sound familiar, for we now live in a world where truth is defined by a process known as the Dialogue to Consensus. In other words, in any group setting, what we can agree upon becomes the very definition of truth. This is the bedrock lie on which America has built every educational institution – and that includes private “Christian” schools, for no institute of learning can be legally accredited without acknowledging the Taxonomy of Educational Objectives.

Bloom’s assertion that there is no such thing as absolute truth was taken directly from Karl Marx, who wrote the following:

“In the eyes of the dialectical Philosophy, nothing is established for all time, nothing is absolute or sacred...”

Unfortunately, when Christians hear a citation from Marx, they instantly relegate the threat to the political vein, thinking that “Marxism” is certainly a serious threat to America, in terms of our historic freedoms. Few realize the hidden goal of this way of thinking is not just to seize control of the nations of the world through Communism, it is actually an intellectual dagger aimed at the soul of the Christian believer. (i.e. Satan, as the “god” of the world systems using those same world systems to emasculate the church)

The truth is, Marx only appropriated concepts which originated much earlier in philosophy (notably German), but his written work demonstrated he firmly believed that what became Marxism could never fully succeed until the world’s thought processes were altered. Furthermore, Marx was well aware of the concept of God and absolute truth, as manifested in the previously dominant patriarchal, Didactic paradigm, and he was convinced that all people must be retrained through education to shift the authority away from the father figure:

“Once the earthly family is discovered to be the secret of the holy family, the former must itself be annihilated theoretically and practically” (Marx, Thesis on Feuerbach #4).

The perverted psychiatrist Sigmund Freud, who believed in and promoted pedophilia, agreed that the parental, patriarchal model stood in the way of a shift in the global mindset, and he taught that the father should be emotionally “annihilated” in order for the child to more fully express himself, and reach his/her “potential.” Since it was impractical for the globalists to stand up and execute every father, the group consensus came to believe the father, as the physical extension of the role of God the Father as the source of absolute truth and authority, must be rendered irrelevant, so the Beast government could be transitioned into the parental role. (Is this not already manifested in America?)

By the time this Dragonspeak Dialogue had completely permeated virtually every significant institutional strata within the American social order, our schools were being driven by intellectuals such as Erich Fromm, a highly respected figure at Columbia University. The following quote from one of Fromm’s hugely influential books says it all:

“In the process of history man gives birth to himself. He becomes what he potentially is, and he attains what the serpent – the symbol of wisdom and rebellion – promised, and what the patriarchal, jealous God of Adam did not wish: that man would become like God himself” (Erich Fromm, from the book You Shall Be As Gods).

Although most believers sigh at such apostasy, and immediately assume they and those they love are not caught up in this intellectual (and spiritual) witchcraft, the overwhelming majority of believers are already practicing a more subtle form of the same way of thinking— so it is now just a question of time before the leavenous, progressive state of this evil comes “to the full” (Daniel 8:23). Indeed, this Dragonspeak Dialogue has already wildly succeeded in altering the very thought processes of the believers of our time, and even though they are convinced they are washed in the blood (and look like lambs), practically all the “Christians” of our time speak like dragons.

-- James Lloyd

Link: Christian Media Network